Missionary parents can order a musical instrument for their MKs, pick it up when on home assignment, use it during that year, and take the instrument back to their field of service or someone else could transport it to the field for them.

At present, with a limited number of UPCs on hand, Marilyn may not be able to send more than one instrument per family in a year. The missionary who receives it is asked to arrange to pay for shipping outside the United States.

Note: Please check the expiration date on the UPCs. Expired labels are not accepted.
Thank you, and God bless you for your ministry to our MKs.
It is greatly appreciated.
